TOP LINKEDIN POSTS FROM 2022

Here at The Reader, we've consistently kicked off the New Year with a review of the previous year's articles our readers found most interesting. With social media now a big part of our lives, we decided to get a different perspective and look at Farpointe's LinkedIn page to see what online topics resonated with our friends and colleagues around the electronic access control industry.

On the reverse is a small sample of the top Farpointe LinkedIn posts from 2022.

SDM's State of the Market: Access Controls

As companies continue tweaking the workplace and welcoming employees back into the office, access control is taking its place as a fully integrated element of a business's security and operational requirements. In our April issue of our e-newsletter, we shared SDM's take on the state of the access control market.

Shep Sheppard Speaking on OSDP, Day 1 of ISC West

What was a strong opening day of ISC West 2022 began with an informative presentation on OSDP by Farpointe's Stephen "Shep" Sheppard. We were honored to be part of the Security Industry Association (SIA) educational sessions, and help further the discussion on this important security industry topic.
