SUPPORTING AND ADVOCATING FOR THE SECURITY INDUSTRY

Security Journal Americas (SJA) hears from Don Erickson,
CEO of the Security Industry Association (SIA)

Product Spotlight: Ranger® Transmitters

Ranger Transmitters are commonly selected for use in both long- and short-range applications to create touchless electronic access control environments that reduce friction. With the press of a button, users can access long-range applications at distances of up to 200 feet (61 m), while that same Transmitter may be presented to a traditional door reader as a conventional physical access credential.

- Durable construction
- Ergonomic design
- Weather-resistance
- Long-life battery
- Multi-application
